FRENCH EXTEND OCCUPATION TO TEXTILE TOWNS

New Advance is Part of Movement Designed to Encircle Cities of Elberfeld and Barmen

FRENCH EXPERTS ATTEMPTING TO UNTANGLE RAILWAY SNARL

Abandon Hope of Winning Aid of Germans in Occupied Area

ELBERFELD.—The German Information Bureau announces that the French have extended their occupation of the Ruhr to include the textile towns of Elberfeld and Barmen. According to the same source the French advance is apparently part of an encircling movement which will include the occupation of Elberfeld and Barmen both of which are textile centers.

Elberfeld is 22 miles southeast of Dusseldorf. Iron and steel goods are also manufactured there.

The extension of the French occupation to the Ruhr Valley was accomplished by about 600 soldiers, the German press reports. The French troops started the Tuesday noon occupation of the textile towns.

The population had been expecting the French for several days, it appears, and so far as the German reports indicate there was no trouble of any kind.

Rail Strike Effective

ELBERFELD.—By The Associated Press.—Gen. Wegmann and M. Le Troquer, French minister of public works, who arrived here Tuesday, found the railroad strike so effective that they had to motor from Aix-La-Chapelle.

A conference at Gen. Degout's headquarters dealt particularly with the situation created by the complete rail strike. Efforts will be directed to improve the services for the transport of food to the army and the evacuation of the population and also to operate a limited normal passenger schedule. It is understood that every military unit in France will send a certain percentage of its trained men to the front.

The efforts of the "committee for the defense of the Ruhr" formed under Chancellor Cuno's direction, are beginning to be seriously felt. This committee was at one time presided over by Burghard Schmidt, who however was recently expelled from Dusseldorf. The French have abandoned hope of the German railroad men resuming their post, they are now equipped with motor cars, which are used to transport the same standard gauge when working.

Essen Completely Isolated

Essen is completely isolated from the Ruhr and railroad communication. The local business men and bankers are endeavoring to transport their affairs with customers. The proud house of Krupp has had to establish a messenger service to Dusseldorf to handle its firm's business. The French are partly responsible for the renewed resistance of the German leaders.

The rail on the main lines are more from lack of traffic and not from lack of coal. The stations and rail yards are assuming the appearance of abandoned villages of once prosperous mining towns.

The French announce officially that the Dusseldorf customs receipts since the assumed change of the collection week ago, have reached a billion marks, or 200,000,000 marks (about $25,000,000). The French official is proud that the Ruhr coal production has dwindled to 25 per cent of normal since the occupation.

With full military ceremonies, the body of General Orlando Holway, late chief of the Wisconsin National Guard, who died last Saturday night of pneumonia at his home in Madison, was laid to rest in Oak Grove cemetery Wednesday afternoon.

The funeral was held at 1:30 at Christ Episcopal church, with Chaplain W. P. Hood, 128th Infantry, Superior, officiating. After the funeral services in the church the casket was carried to the waiting caisson by the active pallbearers, through a lane formed by the 105th Cavalry band of Eau Claire on the right flank and the guard of honor of the La Crosse Field Artillery units and the Tomah Infantry company on the left flank. The band played "Nearer My God To Thee" as the caisson was being carried from the church to the cemetery.

VOTE TO TABLE OLSEN'S BLACK RIVER RESOLUTION

Burdick Tells Board Deal for Additional Farm Land is off

THE county board late Tuesday approved the request of the La Crosse Automobile association for permission to place an information booth, or "house by the side of the road," furnished and maintained by the Wisconsin Motorists' association, at the southeast corner of the courthouse.

The booth will be in charge of an attendant who will be provided with road maps, information regarding roads, routes to towns in this vicinity, accommodations and the kind and quality of service a tourist may get at each place. The "house" will be open daily during the tourist season.

The board, by a vote of 19 to 16, voted to table Barney Olsen's resolution seeking to obtain authorization from the county board for the Black River improvement committee to proceed at once with the work of damming chutes and breaks in the river bank within La Crosse county. This resolution was at variance with a resolution passed at the January meeting of the board, at which time $10,000 was appropriated for the work. The legislation had passed an enabling act authorizing the county to do the work and also empowering the city of La Crosse to assume liability, if any is incurred, because of the changing of the waters of the river back to what is said to be their original course.

By its vote Tuesday, the board refused to either repudiate or go beyond the point reached at the last meeting. Most of the members were of the opinion that the board would be exceeding its legal rights if it did. Mr. Olsen was informed that Tuesday's action would not interfere in any way with the acceptance of bids for materials by the committee which have already been advertised for. The bids will be opened on Thursday. Contracts may be let and work started by the committee at any time after the enabling acts are passed. Mr. Olsen was advised.

Poor Commissioner Burdick reported to the board that he and A. Rasmussen, superintendent of the poor farm, were unable to reach an agreement with the owners of 80 acres of land adjoining the poor farm and which the county rented and farmed last year. The owners wanted $15 an acre. The poor department officials decided that inasmuch as 30 acres could not be farmed advantageously that the rent should not exceed $10 an acre. Failing to reach an agreement on rent, Mr. Burdick said, the proposition was dropped.

WAR BROUGHT PEACE WHICH ENDED PEACE DECLARES VANDERLIP

LOS ANGELES.—P. A. Vanderlip, New York financier, in an address here declared "we went to war to end war and procure a peace which ended peace."

"The world war," he continued, "ended in a peace which destroyed the capacity of Europeans to get together peacefully and civilization, the art of living peacefully together."

"We can have a great measure of prosperity at home without reference to Europe and its difficulties. Call it taking in your own washing. If you will, but we can go forward as a self-contained nation by our own moral weight."

Prospects of Signing Peace in Near East Fade as Turkish Delegation Leaves Lausanne

CONFERENCE EXTENDING OVER 79 DAYS ENDS IN FAILURE

Efforts Now Being Turned Toward Securing "Patched-up Peace"

CONSTANTINOPLE.—By The Associated Press.—The Turkish commander at Smyrna has informed the commanders of the allied warships there that he has orders to enforce their withdrawal if they do not comply with the Turkish order to leave Smyrna.

British to Stay

LONDON.—By The Associated Press.—The British intend to pay no attention to threatening Turkish ultimatum demanding that the allied warships leave Smyrna. It was stated authoritatively Wednesday afternoon that there is nothing in the armistice agreement prohibiting the presence of allied warships. It was added, and the British do not intend to leave.

Paris Anxious

The French Government is considerably worried over the symptoms of extreme nationalist action by the Angora Turks. The news that representatives of the Angora government have warned the Angora government that the spirit prevailing in Angora and which is considered likely to effect the disposition of Ismet Pasha with respect not only to the clauses of the Near East peace treaty that remained contentious subjects at Lausanne, but also those that had already been agreed upon.

It is feared in official circles here that after a sojourn in the atmosphere of Angora, whether he is bound from Lausanne, Ismet may desire to modify some of the concessions he has already made as Turkish Foreign Minister and head of the Turkish delegation to the peace conference.

France and Italy are in accord as to the necessity of reopening the negotiations as soon as possible but it is thought improbable now that anything more can be done until Ismet returns from Angora. It is expected his voyage and sojourn there will occupy about a month.

Meanwhile exchanges of views with confidence among the allied governments as to how to prevent a fresh outbreak of hostilities between the Turks and the Greeks.

TURK DELEGATION LEAVES LAUSANNE

Lausanne.—Ismet Pasha and the principal members of the Turkish conference delegation left Lausanne for Angora at 6 o'clock Wednesday morning. A secretary remained behind. Several journalists accompanied the party.

George Tchibberidze, the Russian foreign minister, will start Wednesday night for Moscow. Thus, after 79 days of ceaseless negotiations in an effort to establish a peace in the near east and restore Turkey to the "company of nations" nothing has been accomplished. However, no one appears to be discouraged and efforts will now be directed to obtaining the signature of what one diplomat called "a patched-up peace."

PEACE HOPES FADING

PARIS.—By The Associated Press.—Even the most optimistic admitted Wednesday that the prospects of signing the Lausanne treaty between the belligerents of the Near East were fading into the distant future.

Ismet Pasha, it seems, had another change of mind almost before the train bearing the French delegation toward Lausanne was out of sight.

TREATY OF FRIENDSHIP IS SIGNED AT WASHINGTON BY FIVE SOUTHERN REPUBLICS

WASHINGTON.—A treaty of peace and amity, eleven conventions and three protocols were signed today at the final plenary session of the Central American conference in the Hall of the Americas at the Pan-American Union.

Secretary of State Hughes presided, and in summing up the results of the conference, which assembled December 4 at the invitation of President Harding, congratulated the plenipotentiaries of Guatemala, El Salvador, Honduras, Nicaragua and Costa Rica on the success of the negotiations and reiterated the friendship of the United States for these nations.

The heads of the five delegations expressed confidence that the agreements would bring the desired results and voiced gratitude to the American government for its efforts and hospitality.

Border Dispute to Harding

After the formal signing of the treaty, conventions and protocols, Secretary Hughes announced the decision of Guatemala and Honduras to submit their boundary dispute to President Harding for arbitration. Costa Rica refrained from signing the convention establishing, with certain restrictions, free trade between the signatory powers. The American delegation joined the other five in signing only one of the conventions, that establishing international commissions of inquiry, and a protocol declaring the full sympathy of the United States with the convention entered into by the other five governments for the establishment of an international central American tribunal, and its willingness to designate fifteen American citizens for service on the tribunals to be created in accordance with its terms.

Unification of Laws

The other conventions signed by the five delegations dealt with the unification of protective laws for workmen and laborers, the practice of the liberal professions, the separation of projects of electoral legislation, and the establishment of stations for agricultural experiments and animal industries, reciprocal exchange of Central American students, extradition, and the establishment of permanent Central American commissions and limitation of armaments.

The treaty of peace and amity, signed, obligates each signatory not to recognize in another a government.

PACIFIC STEAMERS IN COLLISION OFF HARBOR OF FRISCO

Passenger Liner Undamaged, But Crew of Lumber Schooner Takes to Life Boats

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif.—Collision between the passenger liner Wilhelmina and the steam schooner Sierra, 45 miles off San Francisco, Tuesday night, resulted in the death of a crew member and about 25 miles from this city was described in wireless messages received at the Federal Telegraph company's beach station at 4:30 o'clock Wednesday morning.

Four hours after the collision, the crew of the Sierra had taken to life boats, while the Wilhelmina was in no danger and was undamaged except for a dent on the bow.

A tug was started from San Francisco within twenty minutes after the vessels called for help.

The Sierra, shortly after the collision, began sending S. O. S. messages. The Wilhelmina replied: "I am leaking, but will stand by."

The Wilhelmina, owned by the Malson Navigation company, was inbound from Honolulu. The number of passengers she carried had not been ascertained at daybreak, but she often has taken 200 to 300. The Sierra is believed to have a crew of from 25 to 30.

At 4:57 the Sierra spoke: "Lifting 45 degrees and sinking fast." The Wilhelmina asked whether the Sierra could make it to the lights. The schooner replied that she could not because her engine room was flooded. At 5:15 she added: "Heeling fast."

The Wilhelmina continued to stand by.

Other than that she was "leaking," the Wilhelmina gave the air no information about herself, but shipping men here took this to mean that she was in no immediate danger and probably could rescue the crew of the Sierra.

The point where the collision occurred is near the Farallon Islands.

The Wilhelmina has a net tonnage of 6,725. The Sierra is a wooden lumber schooner, with a net tonnage of 1,034, owned by the E. K. Wood Lumber company. San Francisco is the home port of both vessels.

BLACK RIVER BILL PASSED BY SENATE GOES TO GOVERNOR

Chairman Olsen of Special Committee of County Board to Open Bids for Materials

MEASURE GIVES COUNTY THE AUTHORITY TO DO THE WORK

Resolution Asking County Board to Order Work to Start Lost

The bill to enable La Crosse county to improve the flow of water in Black River passed the senate Tuesday by a unanimous vote. The bill, introduced in the assembly by Henry Nein, was passed unanimously by the house last week. The measure now goes to the governor for his signature.

Chairman Barney Olsen of the special Black River improvement committee of the county board, after the supervisors had killed his resolution Tuesday afternoon to order the committee to proceed with the work of repairing the breaks and damming the chutes in the Black River, called on Senator Clark on the long distance telephone to inquire as to the fate of the enabling act in the senate. Mr. Clark told him the bill had been passed by the senate Tuesday and that it would be sent to the governor at once. In the evening Mr. Olsen called on Governor Elaine and told him of the need for improving the flow of water in the Black River and urged him to give special attention to the bill when it reached him for his signature. The governor assured Mr. Olsen that he would do as requested.

The enabling act which gives authority to the county to proceed with the work and also authorizes the city to assume liability in the matter, was drawn by District Attorney Gordon, acting as attorney for the board, taken to Madison and turned over to Assemblyman Nein. Mr. Olsen as soon as the bill was presented advertised for bids for materials to do the work on the river. The bids will be opened Thursday morning at the courthouse.

The vote on the Olsen resolution at the special meeting of the county board on Tuesday was:

Ayes—Dawson, Eggler, Fletcher, Guenther, Hatz, Hesseberg, V. S. Keppel, William Keppel, Knudsen, Koerner, Morley, Kuttelmann, Rahn, Rahn, Schilling, Schubert, Storand, Walter, Chairman Davis.

Noes—Ash, Baum, Derr, Goldard, Heideman, Johnson, Kaba, Kaylor, Koepcke, Olsen, Lapitz, Pettingill, Schneberger, Skogen, Staats, Zahn.

Result: 19 ayes to table the Olsen resolution, and 16 against tabling the measure. Young, Yerly, Kindley were not present to vote.

HEALTH BODY REPORTS LOW MATERNAL DEATH RATE FOR WISCONSIN

State Has Lowest Rate of Any in Registration Area, Figures Show

MADISON, Wis.—New mortality figures, showing that the maternal death rate in Wisconsin in 1920 was the lowest of any state in the registration area, were announced by the state health department Tuesday. The number of maternal deaths was 138, more than one half of them due to toxemia. Had physicians been consulted early and interventions followed, the state board asserted most of these might have been saved.

In 1921, 62,163 births were reported of which 56,191, or 92 per cent, were attended by physicians, having 14,822 children born by midwives and 1,277 by others. About 15 years ago the board's explanation says, midwives took care of from one-fourth to one-third of all cases. In 1921 these cases were only 6.4 per cent of the total. Compared with this decline in midwifery, women with the marked reduction in maternal deaths, which has now given Wisconsin the lowest maternal mortality. In this connection the department credited the added safety and low mortality to competent medical service now generally obtained.

Where health centers are established in counties under the Sheppard-Towner act, prenatal advice is given but no treatment offered, and expectant mothers are advised that the family physician be consulted.

HARDING URGES LAW FOR PROTECTION OF NATION'S FORESTS

Declares U. S. is Using up Timber Four Times as Fast as it Can be Grown

WASHINGTON.—President Harding urges enactment of legislation for the conservation of forests in a letter Tuesday to Representative Clarke of New York, a republican member of the house agriculture committee, which has been conducting hearings on the subject. Co-operation between the federal government and states in a comprehensive policy of reforestation and timber conservation is proposed in a tentative bill before the committee.

"When we remember that substantially one-fourth of the national area is forest land or potential forest land of little or no value save for timber production," the president said, "the need of the legislation becomes apparent."

"Already we have consumed or destroyed six per cent of our original timber wealth, and we are now using timber at a rate four times as fast as we are growing it."

Consumption of forest growth nearest the centers of commerce and industry, the president said, has made necessary shipment of timber for constantly increasing distances at steadily growing transportation costs, with consequent increases in the price of timber, which has added to the difficulty in meeting the housing problem. These are vital matters, he declared, striking directly at sources of national strength.

"Regrowth of our forests on over-landed which are more suitable for that purpose in the more populous portions of the United States," the letter added, "is therefore highly desirable."

Calling attention to a provision of the bill that the federal government might, in its discretion, withhold contributions toward fire protection and conservation from states not co-operating, Mr. Harding said that this step was "altogether desirable."

RED CAN LAW IS SUSTAINED BY SUPREME COURT

MADISON, Wis.—Wm. Knight, of Buffalo county won his case in the supreme court Tuesday when the tribunal sustained the validity of the so-called "Gasoline Red Can Law."

"Manifestly, if the owner of a large retail store," said Justice Decker, "employing numerous clerks, engaged in selling gasoline and other similar products was exempted by a construction of the statute involving or a lack of intention, and where such clerks failed to comply with the provisions of the statute, the statute itself would be emasculated and the beneficial results designed to be attained would be frustrated."

"We therefore hold as a matter of law, under the special verdict of the jury, that the judgment of the lower court must be reversed and that the plaintiff is entitled to judgment for the damages found by the jury, with interest from the date of the verdict, together with costs."

Supreme Court Sustains Damage Judgment of $1500 for Death of Son Nov. 4, 1920

MADISON, Wis.—Chris M. Larsen won his case against the Green Bay and Western railway company in the Supreme court on Tuesday. This was a personal injury act. Sigwald Larsen, was killed in a railroad accident and the action was brought by his parents.

The boy got off the train at Blair when the train stopped at the water tank and without any fault on his part fell from the bridge into the river and was instantly killed November 4, 1920. Damages were assessed in the sum of $1500 which the Supreme court sustained in a decision by Justice Crowhurst. "The defendant claims the verdict is 'excessive,'" said Justice Crowhurst, in an opinion, but we are satisfied that the verdict was well within the province of the jury and cannot be disturbed on that ground. We discover no prejudicial error in the trial of the case."

In the case of O. and N. Lumber Co. against Burton from the La Crosse circuit the decision of the lower court was sustained without a written opinion.

20TH CENTURY CLUB MEETS TO TOUR EXHIBIT

Gallery Talk On Pictures is Given by Professor D. O. Coate

An interested audience, composed of members of the Twentieth Century club and their friends yesterday afternoon enjoyed a gallery talk on the art exhibit by Prof. D. O. Coate. The occasion was the regular fortnightly meeting of the club, held at the Chamber of Commerce.

"There are three phases to be considered in a picture," said Mr. Coate. "They are composition, technique and message, or feeling. All arts appeal primarily to the emotions through the understanding. In considering portraits, of which in this exhibit, we have several good examples, there are four points to look for: the position, pose, the way a figure fills the picture space; the detail, how handled; what put in and what left out; the character expressed, and likeness; and the background."

"In this exhibit we have a variety of portrait studies, from the sophistication of Duffner's 'Lady with the Fan' to the sweet young girlhood of Whitmore's 'Little Elizabeth' from the archness of Mora's 'Spanish Shawls' to the simplicity of Olinsky's 'Madeline'; and from the directness of Louise Hestius' 'Head' to the subtlety of Blumenschein's 'Abedia of Taos'."

Professor Coate discussed individual pictures in detail, with particular reference to portraits and still life, with a few words on landscapes.

The meeting was given over to the talk, there being only a very short business meeting, at which Mrs. H. J. Bullock led a drill in parliamentary procedure. Motions was the subject for the day.

HOW TO MASSAGE THE FACE BY MADEIRA (LITERARY) Massaging the face is an art that anyone can acquire by study and practice.

To remove lines that come from frowning, apply a little cream (tissue building) and with both hands on the center of the forehead, make little circles out toward the temples. Do this a few times. Massage lightly.

Then quickly draw back both fingers and cross one under the other, making an upper-and-under movement. You can see, by trying this, that it gives you a half circular ironing movement, which manipulates these muscles, smoothing out the lines above the eyes. It is also necessary to use a good tissue cream and leave this on. Massage lightly.

CROW'S FEET AROUND THE EYES—With the middle fingers make little circles out toward the temples. Massage around on the temples lightly. A straight line drawn toward the temples will also manipulate the muscles as there are so few layers of tissue around the eyes a good tissue cream will do much toward building up these tissues and removing fine lines. Expression lines are difficult to remove, however, unless one does not use the expression!

THE NOSE—Put your cream into the nose. One does not need to massage the nose, as there are not many wrinkles that form on it. Laughing lines or lines from eyeglasses form on the upper part of the nose, but are not remove the cause to remove these lines, something neither practicable nor desirable. But with care you can do much to lighten the lines.

THE CHEEKS—For line in center of cheeks, beginning at the lower part of the cheek, in the center, make little circles up toward the eyes. FOLLOW—IX—THE CHEEKS—These are found on thin people. You should build up the entire system and then do the following: Puff out the cheeks, making the face very tense. This exercises the muscles, which have become flabby. Then draw in your cheeks, making the hollows deeper. Repeat a few times.

DROOPING CORNER AROUND THE MOUTH—Try laughing, which exercises these corners, by turning them upward and not downward. Then make little circles around these times that form in the corners, working upward. Work the muscles of the mouth by puckering the mouth, forcing the lips outward, then drawing them inward.

LINE AROUND THE EARS—Directly around the ear is where the principal muscle is joined. With both hands at once, manipulate these muscles by working perfectly around right under the ears. Lightly—not heavily.

In massaging, always use a good tissue cream and never massage heavily, always upward and not downward. Do not steam the face as this will break down the muscles. Mud packs are very effective. They do not cause the skin to become wrinkled if you discontinue the use of them.

MARRIAGE A LA MODE In the Gara Hill tribes, in India-China, all marriage proposals are supposed to come from the woman.

Sometimes this rule is broken, but in such cases the violation of custom must be paid for by liberal gifts of liquor to the relatives of the woman whose hand is sought. Occasionally the prospective bridegroom is unwilling to marry, or pretends to be, and runs away. Usually he is caught, however, and dragged to the altar, despite his objections.

Everything About Spring Suits is New

Everything about the spring suits is new—style, fabrics and trimmings. Especially the styles! The spring suits are the only fashionable wear and new jackets are being designed every day. Two of them are sketched. Notice the unbuttoned, pleated waistline of the one, and the bloused, cuffed sleeves of the other. Under the jacket is the dress—its skirt is made to match the jacket and its blouse to match the jacket's lining. Unless it's a very elaborate suit made with a coat of brocade. In that case the blouse of the dress matches the coat and the skirt is made of a plain fabric. Pailie crepe and rayon are combined to good effect and Peirel twill is effectively trimmed with crepe satin.

Uniform Marriage and Divorce Laws Found Necessary

Move to Put Into Effect One Set of Rules For Whole Country

To make marriage more difficult and divorce easier, or to facilitate the former and restrict the latter, isn't the object of the proposed uniform marriage and divorce law, introduced by Senator Capper and Representative Fairchild in congress at Washington, according to Mrs. Edward Franklin White, deputy attorney general of Indiana, who drafted the bill.

The idea simply is to put into effect one set of rules for the whole country.

For our 48 states and the District of Columbia we have at present 19 such sets of rules, Mrs. White points out.

And they conflict, she adds. Amendment is Proposed. In a bill to the proposed law, there have been introduced, both in the senate and house of representatives, resolutions for amendment of the federal constitution, so as to permit congress to enact the desired legislation.

Different laws in different states on contracts, insurance, corporations and the like," says Mrs. White, "may be a great evil but different marriage and divorce laws are, because of their effect on the legitimacy of children, the descent of property and many other things concerning which copies and their issue, are made to the laws of one state and in violation of the laws of another."

Some states have no prohibition upon racial intermarriages, some do. Some prohibit marriage between persons within certain degrees of relationship by blood, others are silent on the subject. Some provide age limitations, others none.

The grounds for divorce range from none in South Carolina, to 11 in New Hampshire. Each state would recognize the validity of a divorce granted by the courts of any other state this might be a matter, but they do not.

Mrs. White reveals that a measure prepared by the uniform marriage laws committee 11 years ago, but only two states have adopted it. Fair Divorce Grounds.

The pending bill provides that applications for marriage licenses must be published two weeks before a ceremony can be performed. It probably no other respect are provisions added to.

For divorce, five grounds are recognized. Indecency, cruel or inhuman treatment, abandonment or failure to provide throughout a period of one year, incurable insanity, and conviction of an infamous crime.

A divorced person cannot be remarried within a year after the making of a decree.

MEATS BY BERTHA E. SHAPLEIGH (of Columbia University.) CHOPS

Probably most housekeepers, asked to name the meats preferred by their families, would include chops—pork, veal or pork.

There are many ways of cooking chops besides plain broiled. The casserole, or covered baking dish, which may be sent to the table, is a great help.

For instance, pork chops, browned on a frying pan, then placed on a bed of sliced apples, seasoned and allowed to cook 25 minutes or longer, are delicious.

Casseroled chops are a change from the usual method of cooking. The filling may be bread, nicely seasoned, cut into cubes and split to the bone, and the stuffing is placed between the bones, and the whole cooked in a frying pan until well browned. Place in casserole and pour over them a gravy made in the pan in which the chops were fried. Or the chops may be cooked in the gravy in the pan.

Lamb chops are good served on thin slices of broiled ham. A portion of onions is a good accompaniment for pork chops. Fried apples are the finishing touch for pork chops.

SWISS STEAK

2 lbs. round steak, cut two inches thick. 1 cup flour. 1 teaspoon salt. 1/2 teaspoon pepper. 1 cup fat, which may be obtained by frying out the fat on the steak. 1 sliced onion. 1 cup water.

With a thick edged plate pound the meat, mixed with salt and pepper, into the steak.

Fry the onions and steak in the fat until the meat is well browned. Place in a casserole, or leave in an iron frying pan, add the water and cook, loosely covered, for one and one-half hours. Season the gravy with salt and pepper if necessary, and add one teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, or one tablespoon tomato ketchup, and serve with carrots and potatoes, boiled, buttered and sprinkled with chopped parsley.

cording to a bill introduced by Assem-

The detaching of land from certain towns in Sawyer county to form the town of Rosary for the Indians of the Lac du Flambeau reservation was asked in a bill introduced today by Assemblyman D. J. Summerville, Ladysmith.

The bill would detach certain territory from the towns of Sand Lake, Hayward, Goussier, Radcliff and Hinder in Sawyer county. If passed, and the town is incorporated, it would be controlled by the Indians of this tribe as there are few white settlers who live within the territory to go to the new town.

Ojibwa, Sawyer county, was also introduced by Assemblyman Summerville.

A bill by Assemblyman A. E. Smith,
Viroqua, would make the tax limitation of cities of the fourth class which are part of a joint school district, not in excess of four per cent of the total tax levied in any one year.

would be exempt from license under a bill introduced by Assemblyman J.
H. Koch, Milwaukee.

ALL NEW GREENWICH VILLAGE FOLLIES

The second annual all new production of the "Greenwich Village Follies" that radiant spectacle built about the radical fancies of the fantastic folk of Greenwich village, the famous Latin Quarter of New York, will be seen for the first time at the La Crosse theater Saturday and Sunday, February 17 and 18.

The Follies is without doubt the most artistic and colorful review that will be seen here. None of its predecessors can approach its novelty of scenic investiture, in bizarre costumes in beauty of lighting and staging. Again none of them can equal it in the striking beauty and shapeliness of their feminine contingents. The twenty famous artists' models the group which illuminates the ensemble in the Follies have a distinctive quality of personality that sets them on a pedestal well above and beyond their contemporaries.

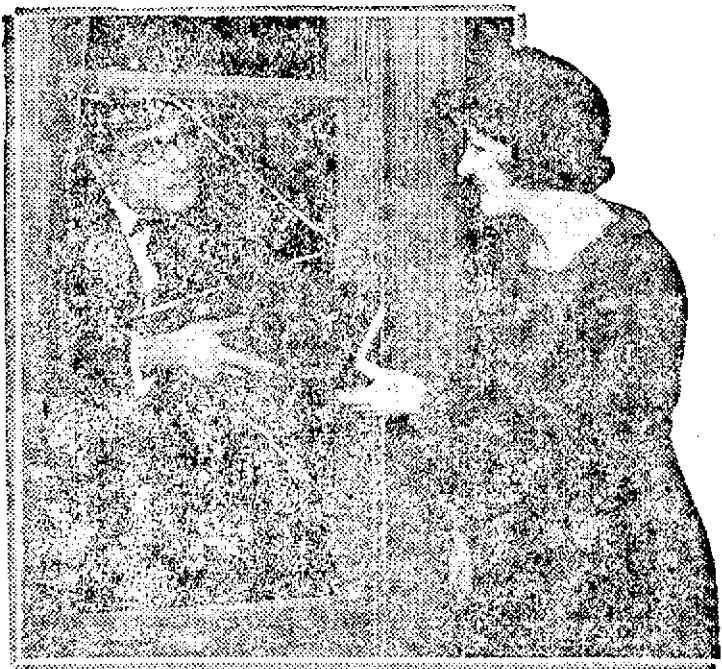

The Follies revolves about no one star. It numbers among its players at least a dozen artists any one of whom might be elevated to stardom in an ordinary musical conception. In addition to the twenty famous artists' models, the high-lights among the studio beauties of Manhattan, form the decorative background before which the featured players let loose their varied antics.

AMHERST, Wis.—Plans have been completed for the new high school building here and bids will be called for soon.

a Wagnerian opera can stir me tremendously. "Trifling Women" was written by Mr. Ingram and adapted by him to the screen. To enact its roles, the Metro director engaged a quartet of players who had been seen in "The Prisoner of Zenda." They are Barbara La Marr, Lewis Stone, Ramon Novarro and Edward Connolly.

"OLIVER TWIST"

Jackie Coogan in his first super production, "Oliver Twist," is more than holding his own in the Majestic theater this week. Ever since the opening performance long lines of patrons have waited admittance to the Majestic, all anxious to see this wonder boy in this wonder picture.

"Oliver Twist" is by far the greatest offering Jackie has made, and with the notable cast of players surrounding him, achieves his biggest success.

STATE CHEESE OUTPUT INCREASED 1,300,000 POUNDS OVER 1914 MARK

MADISON, Wis.—In 1914 the Wisconsin Cheese Producers' Federation handled six million pounds of cheese. In 1922 the federation handled 19,000,000 pounds.

These were figures presented by Frank Swoboda in explaining the service of the federation before the farmers' conference here.

"It was to correct a condition whereby the tail wagged the dog that the Wisconsin Cheese Producers' Federation was started in 1907," he said.

"THE FLIRT"

The Madison family learned the English translation for "The Flirt" about the same time that they learned not to wash breakfast for their daughter, Cora. Cora is the star role in "The Flirt," a production of Booth Tarkenton's heartsome story of American life, which begins its run at the Majestic theater on Sunday, February 11.

OIL PROMOTERS USE SCIENCE TO HELP SWINDLERS

BY EDWARD A. SCHWAB Chief investigator, national vigilance committee and better business bureau, for eleven years with postoffice inspection service.

NEW YORK—Devising new tricks with which to fool the public in fraudulent stock schemes is a type of genius in which promoters of wildcat oil wells excel.

The ancient and mystic divining rod, supposed to locate water and previous minerals, was the prime hoax worked years ago on our ancestors.

The modern faker has taken the divining rod idea and lowered it brought it up to date.

This modernized, disguised method of A. A. Schwab is now a type of tuning into etheric waves or vi-popular method used by a number of brations from crude oil and the am-oil promoters—setting up claims that science will locate oil, thus eliminating most of the scouting and producing problems from the oil industry, at one stroke.

Itadium was the method of one promoter. Another claimed the radio could do it.

Consider the revolution in the industry if underground oil fields could be located before a drill cut the earth! Dry wells—unprofitable wells—all minimized, and huge tanks built in advance to receive the output of gushers from pre-determined natural storehouses!

Now in Bankruptcy One man who used this scheme has promoted seventeen oil companies in the brief span of seven years. Recently he filed a petition in bankruptcy—and also repudiated the claims he had made for his scientific oil-discovery.

The modernized divining rod on which gullible investors risked and lost their money was described by a promoter in a prospectus as follows: "It is a mechanical invention designed for using the wireless method of tuning into etheric waves or vi-popular method used by a number of brations from crude oil and the am-

oil promoters—setting up claims that science will locate oil, thus eliminating most of the scouting and producing problems from the oil industry, at one stroke.

oil promoters—setting up claims that science will locate oil, thus eliminating most of the scouting and producing problems from the oil industry, at one stroke.

DECISION OF JUDGE HIGBEE UPHOLD BY THE SUPREME COURT

High Court Affirms Decision in Case of John Zietlow vs.

Stanley Sweger
MADISON, Wis.—The supreme court affirmed the decision in the lower court in the case of John F. Zietlow against Stanley A. Sweger, appellant, Vernon county. The case was tried before Judge Higbee.

"The defendant also complains," says Justice Vinje, "of numerous prejudicial remarks made by the trial court during the trial. We have carefully considered the printed case with reference to these exceptions. Their number are many and it would not aid the legal profession to set them out in detail, and to state herein the court erred in making them. They have, however, left upon the mind of each of us an impression that the trial court at an early stage of the rights of the parties and frequently thereafter made statements from which the jury could infer that the defendant had no defense. The evidence was such that considerable excuse exists for the formation of such an opinion almost at the inception of the trial. But it is not good practice for a trial court to indicate to the jury by remarks made during the trial his view of the case upon the facts whether or not he intends to submit the issues of fact to the jury. The better practice is to refrain from expressing any opinion as to the probative force of the evidence introduced or as to the probable ultimate right of either party.

"An attorney of a part is more than a mere spectator in court. He has a legal right where documentary evidence is sought to be introduced to see what such offered evidence is. He also has the legal right where he has taken part in an adverse examination of his client which has later been transcribed into long hand to inspect such examination and to see whether it is a document which his client ought to sign, and if there be any defects therein. He has the right to point them out, and he advises his client whether or not he could sign it. For reasons already stated, namely, that the evidence shows the defendant negligent as a matter of law, and that the jury were justified in finding plaintiff free of contributory negligence, errors of procedure cannot result in a reversal of the judgment."

15,000,000 CANS OF CORN

BADGER 1922 RECORD

Wisconsin took seventh place in the production of canned corn in 1922.

The Badger state's canneries produced 15,000,000 cases out of the total of 11,110,000 cases canned in the United States. This means that Wisconsin canned approximately 15,000,000 No. 2 cans of corn. The estimate for Wisconsin is made by Dr. L. Vaughan of the plant pathology department of the Wisconsin College of Agriculture.

The states which led Wisconsin in the production of canned corn were Iowa, Maryland, Illinois, Ohio, Maine, Indiana.

Wisconsin was followed by New York in eighth place.

About 1,300,000,000 coffee trees are producing in Sao Paulo, Brazil.

An Open Letter to the Public of La Crosse

The Universal-Jewel photoplay—"THE FLIRT"—which is to be presented at the MAJESTIC THEATRE starting next Sunday is, in the estimation of the critics and myself, one of the greatest of achievements in the history of the screen.

"THE FLIRT" is Booth Tarkington's masterpiece transferred to the screen with a fidelity and sincerity that makes this picture the greatest drama of American life ever produced.

A remarkable cast under the direction of Hobart Henley has made the characters in Booth Tarkington's famous book live and act in a mighty drama that will live in your memory long after all other big pictures have been forgotten.

Naturally, a showman wants everybody to see every picture he shows. But it's something other than mere business that prompts me to plead with you not to miss "THE FLIRT."

It is one of the greatest and most satisfying pictures I have ever seen anywhere. It certainly is one of the finest this theatre has ever shown. I am proud to be able to show it at the MAJESTIC THEATRE.

BILL RESS TO AID COACH GEOGAN AT

RESS HAS GREAT KNOWLEDGE OF BASKETBALL FUNDAMENTALS

Thirty Additional Men Report
for Practice

BILL RESS, for the last two years a student at the La Crosse normal school, will assist Coach Keogan in basketball at the high school.

Rees is a graduate of Mechanics Art high school of St. Paul. While a student there, he was a star basketball player, making the "All-State" team at a forward position. He later attended St. Thomas college and the Minnesota agricultural college where he performed at the forward position.

Coach Keogan states that Rees will be a great aid in developing new basketball material as he is a master of fundamental basketball. He has always been a clever performer, and a master of stops and turns, pivoting, shadow passing, and the many minor details that go to make a clever basketball player. Keogan wishes these fundamentals instilled in his younger players and believes Rees is the man to do it. Thirty additional men have reported and been placed under the tutelage of Rees.

This move will be a great help to Keogan as he needed someone to work the men coming up from which future teams will be built.

HANK GOWDY, HERO OF WORLD WAR, ALSO BASEBALL, SAID TO BE SLATED FOR MINORS

By BILLY EVANS
There is an end to the career of every star player in baseball.

No matter how great a performer a player may be, there comes a time when his hands are too fast for the game, consider Hans Wagner, Larry Lajoie and a host of others.

Rumor has it that Hank Gowdy one of the most spectacular figures in major league baseball, is about to skid to the minors. It is said the Boston club intends to dispose of Gowdy.

Hank Gowdy burst into the sporting spotlight in 1914 with a vengeance and held it ever since. Gowdy is one of the most popular players that ever graced the National League. If it is true that Gowdy is to pass out, the National League will lose a great character.

Gowdy was a raw recruit when he joined the Giants in 1910. He didn't make much of an impression on McGraw and when the opportunity came to arrange a trade with Boston for Charley Herzog, Gowdy was shoved along in company with Art Bridwell and a bundle of cash.

Gowdy went to Buffalo. He didn't tarry long in Boston. He was released to Buffalo in 1913. He had promise but lacked experience and polish.

Gowdy came fast at Buffalo. After a year he was brought back to Boston, and won undying fame in one season—1914. His success that year is history, probably forgotten by many.

The Braves of 1914 produced the highest upset in baseball history. Boston won the National League pennant that year by coming from last place in July to first at the close of the season, stopping New York's record of three straight pennants.

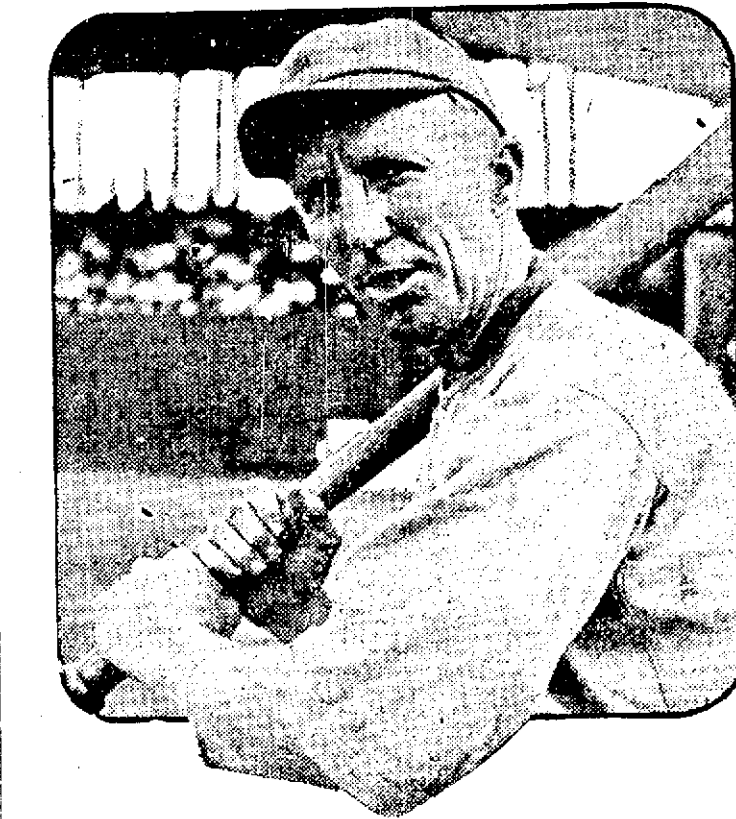

Then the Braves proceeded to establish a world series record by taking four straight games from the Athletics, regarded as an invincible team.

Series' Greatest Hero
Hank Gowdy emerged from that series the greatest individual hero in the history of the baseball classic.

His handling of the Boston pitchers was perfect. With a thorough knowledge of every batter on the hard-hitting Athletics, Gowdy so called signals that Mack's great team had a batting average of only .172.

Gowdy's offensive contribution was 545, Gowdy making 6 hits in 11 trips to the plate.

His six hits, all of them timely, included one single, three doubles, one triple and a home run.

When the United States entered the World War Hank Gowdy was the first major league player to enlist. He made a most enviable record over there.

Gowdy has been a distinct credit to baseball on and off the field. His passing from the majors will be a real loss.

—78 Seconds from Lather to Towel

We offer you the world's fastest shave. And the smoothest. It's a new delight that millions of men are now enjoying.

We do it in a better way—with a barber's edge, the keenest cutting edge known, on a safety razor blade.

It took us years to achieve it. And a fortune in experimenting. But we'd do it all over again for the shaving value it affords—the enthusiasm of happy users, and the business it will bring to us.

Once over the face
No scraping. No after-smart. No lotions needed to protect the face.

Once over the face—that is all.

Thus you reduce shaving time one-half. And save your face, for dull-edged blades play havoc with the skin.

This new blade, now a part of every Valet AutoStop Razor, saves the face.

Shaves like lightning. And a velvet shave every time; the skin left as smooth as a baby's.

BILGRIEN TO FIGHT TAX MEASURES WITH COUNTER PROPOSALS

Iron Ridge Man Opposes Severson Surtax, and Objects to Dahl Tax Rates

OPPOSITION THREATENS THE SUCCESS OF TAX MEASURES

Administration Bills Hamper Industry Claims Bilgrien

MADISON, Wis.—By The Associated Press.—A move to defeat the Severson and Dahl income tax bills by means of a counter tax proposal is being set on foot by Senator Herman Bilgrien, Iron Ridge, elected to the senate on the La Follette-Blaine ticket.

Senator Bilgrien announced Wednesday that he will have a substitute amendment to offer to the Severson bill, completely altering that proposal. He declared that he was opposed to the Severson surtax proposal and to the rates of the Dahl bill, on the ground that their application would hamper industry in the state.

Indication was made by the Iron Ridge senator that his bill would repeal the personal property offset, repeal all exemptions from income taxes and establish a graduated scale of rates much lower than those established by the two bills now before the legislature.

The defection of Senator Bilgrien from the administration ranks on tax measures, threatens the success of those proposals. He asserted that it was his intention to work for their defeat, and declared that with the anti-administration senators, the two bills would be killed.

The senator said that he had discussed with Governor Blaine his intention to bring in a substitute measure.

Despite the defection of Senator Bilgrien, the governor's forces claim a majority for their tax proposal in the upper house since the nomination of M. A. Keane in the 11th district. His vote assures control of the upper house they claim.

Whether or not some of the other senators will break on tax proposals remains to be seen. Senator Bilgrien said that he decided to offer a bill of his own when he satisfied himself that the Severson and Dahl proposals unduly burdened industry.

BOY WORKER INJURED THROUGH PRANK IS GIVEN COMPENSATION

MADISON, Wis.—Compensation was allowed by the industrial commission in the case of a boy injured through a prank of a fellow employee of a company. The commission held the company responsible for the lazard created by a compressed air hose used by an employee.

This house was applied to the body of a boy working in the plant, resulting in serious injury. The commission found that the applicant was injured while performing service growing out of his employment and that the injury was accidental.

"The fact that he was injured through the careless, negligent and thoughtless act of a fellow workman does not and should not defeat his claim," it concluded.

Austria is not making enough money to meet the home demand.

CZERWINSKI ASKS TWO-YEAR DELAY IN TAX LEGISLATION TO PERMIT THOROUGH INQUIRY

MADISON, Wis.—An attempt to have all consideration of tax reform measures deferred for two years is to be made in the legislature by Senator George Czerwinski, Milwaukee.

Senator Czerwinski announced that he would introduce a resolution in the upper house providing for appointment of an interim committee to make an investigation of the whole tax problem and to report to the legislature two years hence. Meantime, all action on legislation relative to tax matters would be postponed.

"I feel that this problem is too big to take hasty action," declared Senator Czerwinski. "The fact that two separate bills have been introduced here by administration men shows that the solution of the problem is not down to a scientific basis."

"I honestly believe that the best form of legislation can be devised only after an exhaustive probe. Delaying the whole question for two years is in my mind the safe and sane policy to follow."

Progressive leaders in legislature declare that Senator Czerwinski's measure will have little or no weight, and that the administration program of tax reform will be enacted into law.

MANY CHILDREN IN U. S. UNTOUCHED BY RELIGION IS CLAIM

Sixty-nine Percent Not Receiving Any Religious Training Declares M. E. Official

CHICAGO.—The number of children in the United States untouched by any form of education in religion is appalling, says the report of Dr. Wm. S. Boyard presented at the annual meeting of the Board of Sunday Schools of The Methodist Episcopal Church here Wednesday.

There are 4,919,433 scholars enrolled in the 36,204 Sunday schools of the Methodist Episcopal Church, with an average attendance of 2,166,246 the highest percentage in the history of the board.

The number of children in the United States as yet untouched by any form of education in religion totals 69.3 percent the report said.

"The Christian Church is now in the process of organizing a church school system that will reach the very last child," it added.

Mr. Boyard reported a continued increase of adults who are attending schools. "Family religion is evidently increasing," the report states.

Russia had more than 5,000,000 men wounded during the world war.
